Free online security awareness program for the Community

One of the primary responsibilities of the Queensland Jewish Board of Deputies (QJBD) is the security and safety of the Queensland Jewish Community.

The QJBD's security sub-committee, the Community Security Group (CSG), is constantly looking for ways to improve how everyone in our Community manages the risks associated with the reality of ongoing threats, including increasing anti-Semitism and global terror. We work very closely with law enforcement and intelligence agencies. They are well-equipped to detect and disrupt terror plots and they have a strong history of stopping terrorist attacks. They also have a long track record in supporting the Jewish Community in Queensland.

However, doing nothing and expecting others to manage the risk, is not realistic. We all need to acquire the tools to protect ourselves and each other, no matter our stage of life, age or position in our Community.

As part of our community's approach to addressing these issues, we have completed full risk assessments of all permanent Jewish facilities in South East Queensland, in a bid made for a Federal Government security funding grant. We hope the Government looks favourably on our application so identified upgrades can be implemented.

In addition, we have purchased an online security awareness training program, developed by communal member and CSG Head Dr. Gavriel Schneider, that is being made available free to the Queensland Jewish Community. The online program is straightforward but extensive. It takes about 1 ½ hours to complete. The program has 7 modules, each around 15 minutes, so you can log in and out as your time permits.

What you will learn from this online course will be invaluable life-skills to keep you and your loved ones safe. You can access the training via this link:

<https://www.r2s.academy/courses/csg-switch-on-gssat-online>

Publicise it widely with your friends in the Jewish Community - encourage them to participate. Log on and learn. It may be the most important education you receive this year.

If you have any questions about this initiative, please talk to any member of the QJBD.

Interested in working for Shalom Magazine?

We are searching for someone to join the Shalom Editorial Committee to help deliver Shalom Magazine to the community each month.

If you have experience with graphic design (preferably InDesign) and an interest in journalism/digital publishing we would like to hear from you. It is a great opportunity to develop your skills and learn more about our vibrant community.

Eurovision 2018 Contestants Plant Trees in Israel

JNF - 15 APRIL 2018

Contenders in the 2018 Eurovision Song Contest, from 26 different countries, participated in a tree planting event in the Tzora-Presidents Forest during their visit to Israel. The lively happening was held on April 14, 2018 as part of the promo event entitled Israel Calling, comprised of a 4-day tour around Israel, as well as media events, receptions and performances. The tree planting was undoubtedly one of the highlights of their tour.

"I was looking forward to visiting this beautiful and ancient place, so rich in history, but actually Israel even exceeded my expectations," said Rasmussen of Denmark.

Rainy overcast weather welcomed the guests, so anyone who thought that Israel was a land of eternal sun was in for a surprise. Luckily, the Keren Kayemet LelIsrael-Jewish National Fund team was prepared, and offered everyone both umbrellas and hats against the sun, and on a day with such capricious weather, both items seemed necessary.

Andy Michelson, KKL-JNF's Chief of Protocol, welcomed the guests and told them a little about the organization he represents and its actions aimed at developing the country while preserving nature. "We believe that the power of music can break down cultural barriers," said Michelson. "Your presence here today can help create a better world. When you return to your homes, you'll know that you left a tree behind you in Israel, a tree that will continue to live and grow in our land."

Alongside the KKL-JNF, additional partners in organizing the visit were the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Ministry of Jerusalem and Heritage, Ministry of Tourism, the Herzliya Municipality and the Tel Aviv Municipality.

With umbrellas in their hands, under the pouring rain, the artists marched to plant the trees. "The truth is that we didn't expect to be planting trees in so much rain," admitted Bojan Trajkovski of Macedonia. "It may not be that good for us, but it's certainly great for the trees."

Sennek of Belgium agreed: "The trees will probably grow very quickly now."

The Tzora-Presidents Forest spans over 1,100 hectares in the Judean lowlands. KKL-JNF began its plantings in the region about 60 years ago, and has since continued to diversify the forest with local species and to develop recreation areas, observation points and hiking trails. The planting center located in the forest enables many visitors from around the world to enjoy and participate in the tree planting experience in Israel.

“The opportunity to tour Israel and meet the other contestants was a once in a lifetime experience,” said Jessica Mauboy of Australia. “Each one of us was privileged to plant his or her own tree and bring love back to Earth.”

The visit to Israel was a fantastic experience for all participants, but there is no doubt that Alekseev of Belarus was the most excited. He had never met his father, who had immigrated to Israel before he was born. This is the greatest adventure of my life, and a wonderful opportunity to meet my father for the first time,” said Alekseev.

At the end of the planting ceremony, a press conference was held in the forest, during which the participants introduced themselves and answered questions posed by the interviewer, the well-known television host Galit Gutman. She presented each of the artists with a fortune cookie, which contained the question he/she was asked.

The excited singers all took the questions seriously, as befitting contestants in a prestigious international competition. Only Cesár Sampson of Austria took his cookie and ate it with great gusto. “You eat in the middle of the interview?” asked Guttmann incredulously. “Yes, because you gave me a cookie,” he replied mischievously, making all the delegation members laugh.

Many Eurovision experts believe that Netta Barzilai, the Israeli representative, has a good chance of winning first place in the competition. She herself kept things in proportion and said: “As far as I’m concerned, I’ve already won with my very presence here, because I have been able to touch the hearts of so many people and inspire many boys and girls.”

Before she left the forest, Cristina Caramarcu of Romania was busy cleaning her shoes of the mud. “We got wet and dirty, but at least we planted trees!” she declared with satisfaction.

During the bus ride, Ieva Zasimauskaite of Lithuania said that she would like to continue her visit to Israel. “I wish I were staying here until the Eurovision contest. Planting trees made me feel wonderful, as if I was planting a piece of my country here in Israel and we were all becoming a united community.”

From the green forest, they returned to bustling Tel Aviv, to prepare for the show of Eurovision songs held that evening. The trees planted in Israel will continue to grow, as will the artists’ dreams of winning the competition and gaining international fame.

Yom Ha Shoah Oration Medal

The Yom Ha Shoah Oration Medal, which was initiated in 2018, is given to the guest speaker at the Yom Ha Shoah ceremonies in Brisbane and the Gold Coast jointly by the Queensland Jewish Board of Deputies and the State Zionist Council of Queensland.

It is in recognition of the preparation and research required, as well as the honour of delivering the oration itself.

This year's Yom Ha Shoah Oration Medal recipient was Eddie Berkovits, Principal of Sinai College, Brisbane.

Ask the Rabbi: A Jewish view of ball tampering

Q. The ball tampering scandal has shaken the cricket world. Is there a Jewish perspective?

A. Cricket has become a religion for some people, but there are moral limits to what bowlers, batsmen and others should allow themselves or be allowed. Better not to have cricket (or any sport!) if there are no standards.

Whether it is test cricket or any other kind, everything must be above board and beyond reproach. It is like business ethics, where the unequivocal Biblical rule is "Just weights and measures shall you have" (Lev. 19:36, Deut. 20:10, 23).

Whatever you are involved in, you must not harm another person or compromise your own conscience. Even if your honesty and integrity do harm to your cause, even if they mean that your place in a team is affected, even if your team is deprived of a win, you have to do the right thing (Psalm 15).

There are all sorts of dodges which you can resort to: but if they smell even a little bit iffy, they're not for you. Why do I use the word "smell"? Because there is a halachic concept that prohibits not only the wrong thing but something that seems like it.

So you're going to tell me that sport is very cut-throat and it has no room for saints?

The Jewish answer is twofold:

1. Sport must never be above ethics, and if it is there's something wrong;
2. Whatever you do, you have to try to be a saint. We are told in Pir'kei Avot, the Ethics of the Fathers (2:5), "In a situation where there is no man (i.e. no 'mensch'), you must try to be a man".

So you're going to tell me that you just have to win this match? Good luck to you, but win because you're good, not because you cheated to get there.

So you might lose the game? Winning is nice, but being clean is even better.

CONDOLENCE

NCJWA BRISBANE SECTION

We have learned with deep regret, of the recent passing of MRS. GRACE SINGER. Many will remember Grace and her family who were all involved in the Brisbane community.

Grace was a member of NCJWA for many years and became its President in 1977 serving a dedicated term of three years.

She then retired and with husband Morrie and family moved to Melbourne.

She frequently visited the Gold Coast to stay with her sister Mrs. Shirley Frankel and on a recent visit many people were able to catch up with her at a Seniors Lunch at South Brisbane Synagogue.

Our deepest condolences go to her sons, Allan, Steven and Peter and their families and her sister Shirley Frankel.

She will be sadly missed by many.

Do you want your children and grandchildren to bring up their families Jewish?

Facts:

- Jewish continuity dramatically increases when students have been on an experiential group program to Israel
- Every Year 10 Student in NSW / ACT / QLD with a Jewish parent receives a $5,000 voucher to make the programs more affordable
- Around 90% of Emanuel, Masada and Moriah students will participate in supported programs this year
- Students attending non-Jewish public and private schools can choose from two programs

Register students from Year 6 to 10 TODAY | youth2israel.org.au/register

Who funds it and why?

Youth 2 Israel (Y2i) is supported through the generosity of donors who want to make Israel experience programs more affordable. The more students who participate, the greater the impact on Jewish continuity.

Why are the programs so important?

Students return with a greater understanding of their heritage and Israel as well as a desire to support their community.

Year 10 Israel program options:

Jewish day school students	Students attending all other public and private schools
If your child attends the Emanuel School, Masada College or Moriah College, the voucher is to be used for that school's Year 10 Israel program.	There are two program options, one operated by the Board of Jewish Education (BJE) and the other through Israel By Choice (IBC). For details visit youth2israel.org.au/school-organisations .

When do you register?

You don't have to wait to be in Year 10. Register students earlier (from Year 6 onwards) so they don't miss out on valuable information and opportunities to meet their peers.

How do you access the funds?

Funds are paid directly to the program provider. Once you are accepted into a program, you automatically receive a $5,000 reduction in the cost.

Help us find other parents and grandparents of eligible students.

Each year on average there are an estimated 500 eligible year 10 students who can participate in an Israel program. The majority are in various public and private schools outside of Emanuel, Masada and Moriah. Not all of them identify themselves as being Jewish. That does not mean they can't go. We want them to learn about their culture and find their own link to their heritage.

Register the next generation TODAY and inspire them TOWARDS a level of Jewish connection, strengthening our TOMORROW.

Visit youth2israel.org.au/register or email info@y2i.com.au or call (02) 8353 1612.

Gan Gani Celebrates Pesach

Gan Gani kindy children, teachers and their families participated in a Pesach (Passover) Seder. The children sang with such enthusiasm and even dramatised parts of the story. They did an outstanding job retelling the story of the Exodus - well done everyone.

Funeral and monument fees are substantial (refer http://bck.net.au). We suggest community members:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Meet with trusted advisers to organise finances and insurances • Join the Chevra: our fees are reduced for members (5 years continuous) • Work through the Chevra to pre-purchase a burial plot at Mt Gravatt Cemetery's Jewish Section • Consider the 'Guardian Plan' (https://www.guardianplan.com.au), accessible through George Hartnett Funerals, as a way to pre-pay future funeral fees at today's prices.

The Chevra is run by volunteers who meet with family, coordinate with George Hartnett Funerals and Brisbane City Council cemetery management, conduct Tahara, supervise the funeral and burial, assist with arrangements for a monument. We work with cemetery management to manage the Jewish section at Mt Gravatt. We operate the Jewish Chapel, maintain the Anzac Memorial Garden and Martyrs' Memorial and retain a watching brief over the Jewish section at the historic Toowong cemetery.

Pesach observed at Sinai

SUBMITTED BY EDDY BERKOVITS

We in freedom live and each year we celebrate this freedom in the festival of Pesach. The children of Sinai are a small testimony to this freedom which has been won by the tenacity of countless generations. The children of the school took great pride in celebration and indeed made us and their community very proud. It was a heartfelt honour to see their young faces and happy smiles as they participated and lead the Seder.

In that small community hall, we had children from a few months old to a gracious energised lady of 100 years of age, five generations of our community joined in celebrating the freedom of our great nation.

For the children of this small school, this was their moment to shine, their time to enjoy and feel the spirit of freedom.

For the parents, community and staff of these children, it was our time to feel proud of what a dedicated community can achieve.

It takes a village to raise a child. It takes a community to build a school.

On behalf of the Sinai community and in recognition of the past 30 years of our existence, we thank you all.

For it is this community which has given and given and believed and worked and argued and fought to maintain a small enclave of a Jewish centre for all to be proud of.

State Zionist Council of Queensland

RABIN AWARD 2018

Philip and Michelle Zavelisky

They have spent a lifetime in the support of their beloved Israel and this Brisbane Jewish community.

They are the descendants of generations which fled the Russian pogroms and, after ending in Australia, devoting their lives to the enrichment of Jewish culture both here and abroad. In so doing, they spent years within the Betar movement educating and encouraging young people to become engaged with Israel.

Many an Aliyah occurred as a direct consequence of their stewardship. They are avid supporters of JNF and have given thousands of hours to raise funds. Their house was always an open door to the hundreds of young Israelis and Shlichim who came to these parts and their table was famous for the food given in warm welcome.

They dreamed of retiring in Israel surrounded by their extensive family. To this day, despite many visits, that dream is yet to be realised.

In many respects the love for Israel and its Jewish people are embedded within this family to the extent that they were instrumental in the development of both Sinai College and Gan Gani Kindergarten. We owe thanks and acknowledge the selfless contribution of them both in making this world a better place.

This year's Rabin Award for extraordinary service towards the State of Israel and the Queensland Jewish Community over considerable time goes to Philip and Michelle Zavelisky.

Reaching out to support members of the Jewish community in Queensland.

Socially Yours

NEWS FROM THE COMMUNITY, FOR THE COMMUNITY

Heartiest congratulation to well known and respected communal friend ESTHER FRIEDLANDER, who on 3 May will celebrate her birthday together with husband Grant and her wonderful family and friends. Esther is always ready to assist the community when called upon and may she enjoy all the Naches she so richly deserves.

Wishing well known communal friend DEBORAH ZAVELSKY a happy birthday for 3 May and many future years of health and happiness.

Not needing much of an introduction is our dear South Brisbane communal stalwart MYRIAM GOLDMAN who will celebrate her birthday on 4 May. On behalf of the Brisbane community we wish her many healthy returns of the day. The monthly luncheons for the seniors would not be the same without her whole hearted kitchen input which is very much appreciated. May she and husband Gary continue their wonderful work in the community.

The Jewish National Fund of QLD wishes TAMARA YOUNG Mazal Tov on the celebration of her birthday on 4 May. Tamara is the wife of JNF QLD President Tony Gariano and JNF QLD acknowledges her support of Tony in his involvement with JNF activities. May she enjoy many years full of joy and happiness.

Heartiest congratulations and Mazal Tov to well known, and respected communal friend REBECCA RAPTIS, who on 8 May will celebrate her birthday. We wish Rebecca many years of good health to enjoy the love of her family.

Wishing our well known communal friend JORDAN FRIEDLANDER a happy birthday for 12 May with many happy, healthy and successful years ahead with wife, Charlotte Friedlander, a member of the Shalom Editorial Committee.

Wishing SALLY FRIEDLANDER a happy birthday for 27 May and on behalf of her family and friends, we wish her many future years of good health and a successful Nursing Career.
